Breast Self - Examination Glove

The BSE Glove is a highly sensitive breast lump detector that assists the detection of newly developed lumps in the breast as small as the size of a sesame seed or a fine grain of sugar. The breast lump detection glove is a palm size mitten that acts as an agent to do breast self-examination. It is based on the magnifying palpation effect of the patented pouch and reduces friction to give a smooth movement that stops the lumps from moving while pressing the breast. This allows a more concrete and apparent touch. This highly magnified palpation effect is not possible by doing self-inspection by bare hands.

The Breast lump detection glove allows women to detect breast lumps at its treatable stage or first stage by doing breast self-examination. With the help of the highly sensitive Breast LUMP DETECTION GLOVE the tiniest lump could be detected when examining the breast. It is easy, fast and safe to use and you can do it on your own. It helps detect breast lumps at its early stage without any discomfort or side-effect.

This new and preventive medical device could save lives by detecting very small breast lumps that may be cancer at its early stage. Breast examination with the Breast LUMP DETECTION GLOVE is extremely easy. Upon finding ANY abnormality sees your doctor immediately. Do not wait until it is too late.
